Singapore Motorshow returns for the third year from 12 to 15 January 2017

Singapore (29 August 2016) – For the third consecutive year, the Singapore Motorshow will return to Suntec Singapore Convention & Exhibition Centre from January 12 to 15, 2017.

Featuring more than 20 vehicle brands, the Singapore Motorshow 2017 is presented by Motor Traders Association of Singapore (MTA), in collaboration with MediaCorp.

"Given the overwhelming response we've received in the past shows from car enthusiasts in Singapore, we're excited to be bringing back the Singapore Motorshow for the third year in a row," says Mr. Glenn Tan, President of MTA. "Following the success of the 2016 show which drew over 58,000 visitors, we look forward to welcoming them, as well as their friends and families for four fun-filled days in 2017.

Mr Jack Lim, Chief Commercial Officer, MediaCorp said, "MediaCorp is proud to partner MTA once again for the third year in a row. It was heartening to see car enthusiasts, along with their families and friends, enjoying the multiple live radio shows with Mediacorp artistes and celebrity DJs during the Singapore Motorshow. We are looking forward to another exciting show for everyone in the family."

Singapore Motorshow 2017 will also feature two floors of exhibition space with vehicle brands, automotive accessories, lifestyle products and services spread across Level 3 and 4.

Tickets for Singapore Motorshow 2017 are priced at $6 per entry on weekdays and $8 per entry on weekends, and complimentary for children below 120cm in height. Just like this year's show, Singapore Motorshow 2017 will also have a limited amount of special preview tickets. These are available at $10 per entry and will allow visitors to enter the show at 1pm on 12 January 2017 instead of 5pm on the same day when it is open to the public.

Back by popular demand, Russ Swift will be showcasing his skills via driving exhibitions for participants at Singapore Motorshow 2017. Tickets for Russ Swift's stunt driving show are separate from the entrance ticket. These tickets will be available for collection on-site an hour before each show and must be collected in person and upon presentation of a valid entrance ticket. Tickets are limited and will be given out on a first-come-first-served basis.

Official sponsors for the Singapore Motorshow 2017 are AIG (Official Insurer), HL Bank (Official Bank), Shell Singapore (Official Automotive Lubricants Supplier) and MediaCorp (Official Media Partner). The event is also supported by the Japan Automobile

Manufacturers Association, Inc (JAMA). For more information on the Singapore Motorshow 2017, visit www.motorshow.com.sg.
