Car enthusiasts, you'll want to hear this: the biggest and most extravagant automobile showcase is pulling up at Suntec Convention and Exhibition Centre from 11 to 14 January.

Singapore Motorshow 2018 is here, and although car prices are high in Singapore, that doesn't mean you can't head down to admire the extraordinary machines.

Also at the event will be an exhilarating stunt show by British precision driver, Russ Swift. In collaboration with Subaru, he will be performing tight manoeuvres and thrilling stunts with the vehicles.

When you buy a ticket to the exhibition, you'll be entered into a lucky draw for a chance to roll away with a Subaru Impreza. New year, new car?

Start your engines right in the new year with these fast cars; you can't actually drive them but window shopping is almost as fun. Tickets will only be on sale on location during the event.

Dates & Times: 11 – 14 January 2018, varying times

Prices: From $6
